Forward—Dedication

WE, the Modulus staff, present for your approval this annual. We have changed the style and atmosphere of the year-book greatly by having it printed and diminished in size. The true life of Huntington High School we have tried to portray candidly. The humorous, as well as the more serious sides of the school's experience, are shown. We know our book is not perfect, but we hope that as you view it in future years it will recall many happy memories.

To their activity as a group in Huntington High School, to their success in future fields, and to their enjoyment of the memories of these happy years together—to the Huntington High School graduating class of 1938, the staff dedicates this issue of THE MODULUS.

To You, Our Boys

I

To you, our boys, we'll sing today
Our little song of cheer,
We'll march right on to victory
And make our pathway clear.
Cheering you to win the game,
Come on, and show them how;
So let's put spirit in the fight
And cheer for them right now.

CHORUS

Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah.
Our cheers for the H. H. S.
It's the one school, and it's the dearest,
The school we love the best.
So then, let us "pep up";
Come on boys, let's win
For the best, best school in all the nation—
Our Cheers for the H. H. S.

II

Let us be loyal sons and true,
And triumph in life's game;
Uphold the fame of H. H. S.,
Add glory to her name.
When wider fields present their view
And harder tasks appear,
Let "Red and Black" shine forth anew,
Our happy course to steer.

III

We stand for knowledge, truth and power,
Her glorious name to bless;
May no dark stain, not for an hour
Make her great honor less.
May noble sons and daughters true
Make history pages shine,
And "Red and Black" in brightest hue
With memory intertwine.

I. The School

1873-1938

Huntington County's first school bell was heard in the winter of 1834. Only four families made their homes in the muddy little trading post that grew up to be Huntington when William Delvin, young Irish surveyor established the first school. Jonathan Keiser, owner of the log tavern that stood near the present Cloverleaf Creamery, gave his best room for use as a classroom.

One year later, a log schoolhouse was erected on the lot opposite the police station, where a service station stands now. This one room building, serving also as Court House, was the humble beginning of the school system that gives us the H. H. S. of 1938.

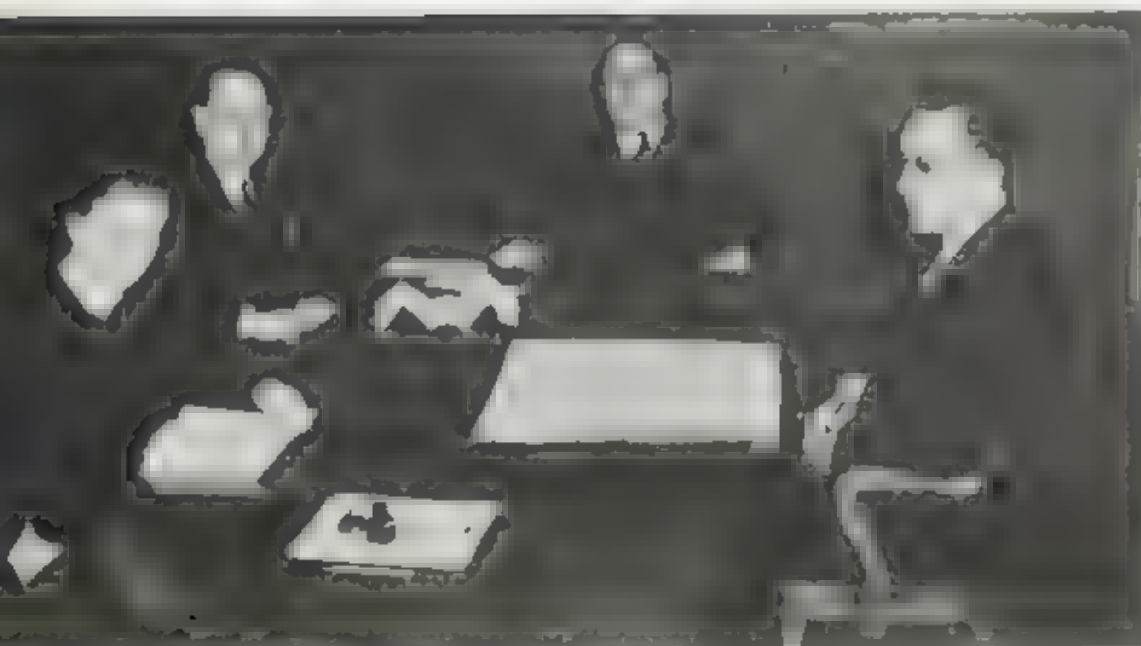

The history of Huntington High School itself, begins in 1873. In that year, the Huntington city school was transferred from the "Rock House," where the City Library stands now, to a new brick building at the corner of Lipton and Jefferson streets, and seven pupils enrolled for advanced, or high school work. Despite this small enrollment, the school had a principal, Allen Moore, independent of the graded school with which it shared the building. The program for 1873 students included nearly everything studied by 1938 students with the addition of astronomy, moral philosophy, and mental science. In 1877, four of the original pupils graduated. Since that year, 3,649 graduates have won their diplomas here.

H. H. S. didn't attain a building of its own until 1891. At that time, the first high school building was completed, just south of the old building, that was already known as Central School. The enrollment had mounted to 95 pupils, but the new school was planned to take care of about 300 students. When this building was last used in 1918, the enrollment totaled 463. The following year, 519 triumphant students took possession of the new brick building on Guilford Street.

Enrollment for 1938 amounted to 842. Of those students, 146 will leave H. H. S. as graduates this spring. Their memories of today will be the histories of other issues of The Modulus, and may those histories record a future of Huntington High School as long and distinguished as its past.

Seniors . . . .

Motto: Alt ora Quærimus. (We seek higher things.)

Flower: American Beauty

Colors: Blue and Silver

The Seniors of 1937-38 held the first meeting September 14 at which the following students were elected as officers: Robert Allman, President; Imogene Snyder, Vice President; Evelyn Schacht, Secretary; Betty Windemuth, Treasurer. Bruce Gerdes was chosen as class adviser.

The Senior committees were announced September 22 by the President, Robert Allman. The committees were as follows:

Invitation Committee: Janis Frantz, Chairman; Evelyn Schacht, and Robert Correll.

General Class Party Committee: Worth Ware, Chairman; Virginia Plummer, Mary Lou Dennie, Fred Mowrer, Wilbur Hannon, and Mary Louis Winkler.

Flower, Motto, and Colors Committee: Ruth Dippell, Chairman; Edward Roush, and Bette Myers.

The Class produced the annual Senior Play entitled "Galahad Jones."

On December 8 the Seniors held a meeting at which it was decided that the annual Senior gift to the school would be stage scenery, including a double stairway, fireplace, and french doors.

Committees for a Senior party were appointed February 1 at a general class meeting. The committees were:

Finance: Robert Leeti, Chairman; Betty Windemuth, Mary Wineke, William Parker, Elliot D. Sier, Alma Correll.

Decoration: Evelyn Schacht, Chairman; Bette Myers, Richard Marker, Maxine Guntle, Harold Reeves, Jack DeCamp.

Refreshment: Marjorie Burris, Chairman; Robert Galbraith, Mary Louise McEnderfer, Lavon Piepenbrink, Rex Heaston.

Entertainment: Mary Jane Vickery, Chairman; Virginia Plummer, Willis Seely, Carl Hooton, Kathryn Martin.

In February all seniors who were interested in college education were invited by President Mason to tour the Huntington College grounds. Those interested in the invitation were taken in several groups to the institution in which they attended chapel, toured the grounds, audited classes, and were entertained for luncheon.

Several days before the Senior Party the class met to elect nominees for the king and queen. The following fellows were nominated for king: Fred Mowrer, Bronson Harris, Ralph Morgan, Richard Marker, William Dill, and Jack Hostler. Girls nominated for queen were: Janis Frantz, Jeanne Galliher, Mary Lou Dennie, Evelyn Schacht, Alma Correll, and Mary Jane Vickery.

The Seniors held their party in the H. H. S. gym March 18. The theme of the decorations was a blue and silver toned night club. Tables surrounded the dance floor and in one corner a bar held punch and sandwiches. Richard Marker and Evelyn Schacht were voted king and queen of the Class and were presented individual loving cups. Music was provided by a Nickelodean.

KING AND QUEEN

At the Senior Party, members of the Class named Evelyn Schacht the Queen, and Richard Marker the King of the Festivities.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

Howard Metteland, Secretary; Richard Fitch, President; Miss Lago, Faculty Adviser; Richard Ball, Treasurer; William Ellerman, Vice President

Juniors . . . .

The year was a busy but most pleasant one with fine co-operation from one hundred members of the class who served on some committee during the year. Others supported the many parties and projects.

The Concession committee with Maurice Helm, chairman, and four main candy sellers (Agnes Nitchy, Janet Price, Jean Sowerwine and Phyllis Toy) deserve high recognition for their hard work. During the Sectional Basketball Tourney this committee made a profit of $220 by good planning and excellent work. Another committee that began the year with profits was the Balloon Committee with Lorraine Brenn and Jean Sowerwine selling the largest number of balloons for the Homecoming football game.

The first class party called the "Music Shoppe Shuffle," with Rachel Mickley as general chairman, was held in the H. H. S. Gym in the month of November. The Gym was artistically and cleverly decorated in music notes by Richard Ball and his Decoration Committee: Kay Hoffman, Christine Hipskind, Devon Robbins, William Boggess, Willodean Myers, and Agnes Nitchy. Cakes and hot chocolate were served at the Music Bar by Harriet Moore and her Refreshment Committee. The music was furnished by Junior Burgett's orchestra.

The next Junior social activity was held during Christmas vacation at the Masonic Temple and was called "The Stardust Ball."

The Temple was beautifully decorated in blue with silver stars by Dorothy Lowey and the Decoration Committee. The other Juniors who assisted in making the ball a success were: Bronson Harris, Janis Frantz, Mary Lou Dennie, Virginia Plummer, Evelyn Ellis, Lois McMillen, Willard Sporleder, Carl Hooton. The feature of the evening was the choosing of the Stardust Queen. Dorothy Lowey was crowned queen over four other nominees, Rachel Mickley, Marjorie Pauling, Jean Sowerwine, Eva Lois Reed.

After raising a fund of $425, the class began the final plans for the one big event toward which the projects of the whole year pointed—that of the Junior Reception and Prom, which was held on May 10 at the Masonic Temple.

The Temple was beautiful as a modernistic Gold Room. The program of music and drama besides the usual program of welcome, response, will, and prophecy made a pleasant evening. After the banquet one hundred and twenty-five couples attended the Prom with Jimmy Cathcart and his Indiana University band furnishing the music.

The Reception committee chairmen were as follows: Decoration, Jean Sowerwine; Invitation, Philip Bash and Fred Hippensteel; Program, Harriet Moore; Lighting, John Dilley; Menu, Josephine Kitt.

Student Council....

The initial duty of the Student Council for the first term of the 37-38 school year was the handling of the annual Junior Red Cross drive. The drive lasted for one week and was a financial success.

In order to raise enthusiasm for the homecoming football game, the council sponsored a parade, with a prize given to the group with the most unique float or act. Later in the year a "bike" rack was constructed under the supervision of the council to solve the problem of parked bicycles on the front lawn. As a result of the meetings devoted to the problem of "noise in the halls," the library was opened to the students who wanted to converse or meet, before and between classes.

Thus the Student Council through its discussions and efforts helped in the solving of some of the high school's problems.

The officers and the adviser for the Student Council for the first term were: Philip Bash, President; William Ellerman, Vice President; Norris Huston, Secretary-Treasurer; Burton Stephan, Adviser.

The Student Council for the second term of the 1937-38 school year held many meetings discussing varied school problems. Four of these were decided and agreed upon as follows: pupils were to remain standing in auditorium until the flags are placed in their standards; waste paper should be deposited in the goodly number of waste-baskets instead of being scattered in the halls and campus grounds; students were not to be admitted inside the building before 8 a.m. and 12.45 p.m. except in case of rain or snow; a school calendar would be hung in the office showing the meetings scheduled for each day, so that the groups would not conflict.

Other discussions were held upon the subjects of traffic regulation on Guilford Street and on the suggestion that there were too many outside activities.

Officers and adviser were: Ruth Dippell, President; Paul Zent, Vice President; Mary Jane Vickery, Secretary; Burton Stephan, Adviser.

K. B. F. Award . . . .

For the twelfth consecutive year, the Kiwanis Club gave to the Senior members of the school an award for distinction gained by having a high scholarship rating throughout their four years of school.

K. B. F. stands for "Kiwanis Builds Forever." This organization has done much to boost the ambitions and efforts of students for if they attain this honor they stand a big chance of success in later years.

There can only be five per cent of the class chosen for the K. B. F. award. The only eligibility required to gain the award is that the students must have the highest scholarship of the class. This award given high school students is comparable to that of the Phi Beta Kappa in colleges.

National Honor Society . . . .

Judged on the qualifications of scholarship, service, leadership, and character, fifteen per cent of the Seniors and five per cent of the Juniors were chosen for the National Honor Society for the 1938 representatives. Thirty-five members of the Senior Class were eligible, but only twenty-two could be voted in. Both the faculty and students voted for the eligible pupils.

To be eligible for the society, a student must meet all the above requirements, and be among the upper fourth of the class scholastically. Service applies to interest in activities sponsored by the school after school hours. Leadership is based upon the student's ability to help and enjoy his fellow students. Character includes the pupil's general attitude and personality in the school.

The society is national, having chapters in most of the leading schools of the country. Huntington has been a member of the national organization for about fifteen years.

MODULUS STAFF

Seated: Bette Myers and Robert Corell. Artists: Janis Frantz. Editor-in-Chief: Robert Heck. Feature Editor: Robert Rickert. Photographer

Modulus Staff . . . .

The Modulus staff members were appointed by Mr. Day, Faculty Adviser, early in the year as follows: Janis Frantz, Editor-in-Chief; Robert Corell and Bette Myers, Associate Art Editors; Robert Heck, Feature Editor; Ralph Morgan, Sports Editor; Robert Rickert, Photographer; and Norma Jeanne Feigel, Advertising Manager

The work of preparing and editing the 1938 Modulus rested almost entirely on the stalwart shoulders of the seven people mentioned above. However, the nerve-wracking, monotonous task of turning the mimeograph lever was not to be contended with since this year's Modulus was planned a printed annual, through the facilities of the U. B. Publishing Company. Due to the fact that it was printed this year's yearbook was smaller, but in most respects better. One major improvement was a bound, Phototone cover, a new development in yearbook covers

Janis Frantz deserves much credit for her task of editing the Modulus. Janis was continually confronted by an assortment of papers which would have made a less energetic young woman give up in despair. She was author of much of the contents of the book and worked continually at every available opportunity

Robert Rickert, as he has been in the past was again photographer for the Modulus. The assortment of photographs in the yearbook make more stars in his crown of photographic success. His knowledge of lighting and affairs connected with his art made him invaluable

Robert Corell and Bette Myers, both connected with the 1937 annual, were responsible for the making of the cleverly amusing clay figures as subjects for photographs used on the division pages. Robert Corell was author of the cover design

Robert Heck lived up to his established reputation as a feature writer. The works of "Pretzel" are only too widely known for us to dwell upon

Ralph Morgan, ex-School World sports editor, made the most of his awe-inspiring job of taking care of the yearbook's sports section. Anyone who has ever written sports knows that the task is one of considerable initiative and perspiration

Norma Jeanne Feigel personally supervised the advertising campaign. This year's Modulus contains about one hundred dollars worth of advertising and covers six pages

Of course, there was that certain gray-haired "firebrand of journalism" who supervised the Modulus, who was always in the middle of an amazing amount of activity. A few more white hairs cropped out on "Pop's" graying head as a result of the plaintive wails of his waifing staff

Others who had a hand in some of the work were Joyce McLaughlin, Jeanne Mahoney, and William Boggess

School World . . . .

During the fall term and the first six weeks of the second semester the School World was published as a daily newspaper. The the publication was changed to a weekly, with an eight page edition every Friday. It took work and cooperation from every member of the staff, from the editor-in-chief to the lowliest cub reporter, to make the School World whatever success it attained.

At various times throughout the year produced. These meant that some one spent special editions of the School World were several hours of extra work to make them possible. The special editions and their creators were: Hallowe'en supplement, Mary Ann Winebrenner and Richard Christman; Hi-Y edition and Sunshine Society edition, Devon Robbins; G. A. A. edition, Mary Ann Winebrenner; Christmas cartoon supplement, Richard Christman; State Band Contest extras, Robert Heck; Honor Society extra, Mr. Day.

A spelling contest was sponsored by the publication in the high school auditorium on April 19. A trophy, the award for the winner, was given to Jannette Lantis for being the best speller in Huntington High School. Josephine Shipley secured second place. Jannette was also second in the contest conducted in 1937 to determine an entry for the county spelling contest, sponsored by the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette over station WOWO, in which Harry Ellerman won the right to represent the school, and later was first in the county contest; so Jannette demonstrated through the two years a consistency in accurate spelling.

Operators . . . .

Assisting in the development of the new department of visual instruction in the city schools, several boys served the schools during their study periods and gained training in the operation of motion picture projectors.

Through the purchase of a sound projector, the latest developments in educational films were made available to the schools, entirely financed through the efforts of the department, and these boys gave their time to operate the projector in the high school and other buildings.

Largely through the intense interest of Robert Rickert, Mr. Day was led to head the work as director and assume the responsibility of raising funds for the project. This was done through the exhibition of feature motion pictures, for which the pupils paid admission, making possible the showing of a large number of free educational films to all pupils.

During the year, more than seventy different titles of films were shown, totaling about 150 reels. About 250 separate exhibitions were held, to reach the pupils in all the schools with various programs, and the attendance reached the figure of more than 40,000.

Another feature introduced was the service of slide projectors. After the department had purchased such equipment and shown its instructional value, the trustees of the will of Miss Martha Tyner, former high school teacher, were led to devote a part of the bequest, made in memory of her sister, Miss Helen Tyner, former principal of Riley School, to the purchase of film slide projectors for each school building, in keeping with the purpose of the will to further the service of the public library to school children. Purchase of reels will make nearly 300 subjects available for use in the class rooms of the city.

Some credit for this valuable addition to the facilities of the schools is taken by the group of operators, since it was through their services that the schools became conscious this year of the value of visual instruction through films and projectors, and led to this action which will be of inestimable value to the work in years to come.

The boys who composed the group of operators gave real effort in the "lugging" of the projector and in the sacrifice of time. The group included Robert Rickert, Ambrose Burgett, Richard Zahm, Jack Ackerman, John Dilley, Fred Brewer, Robert Heck, and Paul Hoon.

Sunshine Society

The purpose of the Sunshine Society is best expressed by its motto, "Others," and its creed! "With love in my heart, forgetting self, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. A., the state Hi-Y organization, and national Hi-Y organization. The Huntington club received state recognition the past year when Philip Bash was elected president of the fourth district of the Indiana Hi-Y's for 1938-39.

The club for the year 1937-38 had one of the most prosperous periods since its organization. The treasury of the club was built up higher than it had ever been before due to the sales of pencils, handbooks, and the presentation of the Follies.

The Hi-Y club joined the Sunshine Society to put on the annual Christmas program in the auditorium and a party at the county infirmary. The two clubs and the Junior Hi-Y also had charge of the annual Easter sunrise services.

During the year the Hi-Y and Sunshine sponsored two formal dances at New Years and Valentine.

The officers and officers-elect attended state and district conferences at Peru, Fort Wayne, and Indianapolis, and the club attended a state conference at Marion. Joint meetings were held with the Huntington Junior Hi-Y, Wabash Hi-Y, and the Lincoln Gra-Y.

Regular business meetings were held weekly on Wednesday nights with speeches being given by Burton Stephan, John Houghton, Mark Ware, Glen Hummer, Rev. Virgil Harris, Rev. John Paul Pack, Judge Otto Krieg, and J. M. Scudder, of Huntington; Merle Carver, of Indianapolis; Coach George Zinz and Professor O. W. Beitelshoes, of Huntington College; and Coach Burt, of Manchester College.

The club basketball team engaged in several contests with the Junior Hi-Y, the Freshman, the Wabash Hi-Y, and several other independent or league teams.

The social events of the club included the Date Night which was held in January and the Steak Roast held in May. The annual banquets were the Father and Son banquet held on January 26 with the Junior Hi-Y, with the Rev. T. E. ## Hi-Y Follies . . . .

"Always a Year Ahead."

This was the motto used by the Senior Hi-Y in presenting their Hi-Y Follies of 1939. The audience that gathered to see the show on Friday, January 28, found that it lived up to its motto.

This success was largely due to the tremendous efforts of Ambrose Burgett and Robert Heck. Ambrose spent many an hour in making arrangements of popular melodies to fit the personnel of the orchestra, and devoted many other hours in rehearsing the group. The program represented a distinct achievement for the pupils, since it was entirely their own work.

A concerted ticket drive and advertisement through an auditorium session in high school brought out the largest crowd that ever attended a Hi-Y show, and comments were to the effect that it was the best produced by the boys.

The dance chorus, composed of Hi-Y boys brought a big laugh as they went through their "routine," garbed in dresses belonging to "little sisters," with some members displaying certain articles of apparel usually seen only on the clothes line on wash day.

The featured orchestra number was "Blue Danube," arranged for the special combination by Burgett, and several other orchestra selections were on the program.

Others who appeared on the program were: whistling, Carl Hooton; tap dance, Annabel Shroyer; novelty act, Robert Allman and Ralph Morgan; girls' vocal trio, Joan Brown, Norman Jeanne Feigel, Betty Richards; piano solo, John Sowerwine; "Stroud Twin" act, Lyle Abrams, Richard Dill; violin solo, Max Ware; vocal solo, Jeannette Shavev; accordion solo, Thelma Higley; vocal solo, Vivian Brown; comedy stunt, Fred Brewer.

Girl's Glee Club and A'Cappella Choir

"All art is based on drawing a line Lines of melody and coloring."

—Sir Hugh Robertson

The Girl's Glee Club of the 1937-38 school year was composed of twenty girls, whose object was either to become eligible for the A'Cappella Choir or to experience a general training in voice.

The Glee Club met three times a week, and due to crowded schedules the group was not organized into a regular club with officers.

The group took a prominent part in the Christmas pageant given in the H. H. S. auditorium. They appeared in various other auditorium sessions.

The club was divided into three groups, soprano part: Janis Frantz, Marian Morgan, Lois McMillen, Marilou Ade, Ruth Kilty, Ruth Bloomberg, Annabeth Knight, Suzanne Crane; second soprano: Lillian Holley, Peggy Burris, Mary Price, Louise Lantis, Aileen Lamb, Mary Farley; alto: Martha Price, Evelyn Ellis, Betty Jane Haneline, Roselene Finney, Lydia Scott.

The purpose of the A'Cappella Choir is to study the different types of choral music from the beginning to the present time.

The A'Cappella Choir in the past year was composed of thirty-one students. The choir met daily and received full credit for their training. The Choir was divided into five different groups, first and second soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. Each member received individual attention.

In November the A'Cappella Choir gave several musical numbers for the student Thanksgiving and Armistice programs held in the auditorium. Christmas carols were sung by the group on the Christmas auditorium session. On January 3 the organization performed at a meeting of the Evening Musical. The Choir served as a musical background for the annual Easter Sunrise Service, April 17. As a last activity the group, including the graduating Seniors, sang at the Baccalaureate Service, May 15.

The five divisions and their members were soprano: Mary Forst, Iris Goodrich, Georgianna Fahl, Jannette Lantis, Helen Leeth, Eloise Stands, Ilene Clinger, Eloise Fahl; second soprano: Norma Jeanne Feigel, Eloise Kaylor, Marjorie Orr, Betty King; alto: Betty Claybaugh, Jeanne Mahoney, Evelyn Everding, Eloise Lamb; tenor: Ralph Eltzorth, Eugene Smith, Devon Robbins, Robert Rosen, Ralph Hubley, Paul Hoon; bass: David Ard, Douglas Weber, Russell Christoffel, Gordon Wachter, Eugene Shoemaker, Ramsey Bonewitz, Donald Wolverton, Robert Davis.

Both the Girl's Glee Club and the A'Cappella Choir were under the direction of Mrs. Vivian Branyan.

Band . . . .

The Huntington High School Concert Band made approximately seventy public appearances in the 37-38 school year. This number includes football and basketball games, parades, and concerts. The outstanding appearances of the year were the maneuvering at both home and out-of-town football games and at the Peru basketball game.

The first formal concert of the season was given by the organization on February 13. The concert featured several numbers in the modern strain. In addition to these, the band made a number of appearances for various civic activities.

On October 12 members attended a clinic in Fort Wayne. In the same month the band sponsored and played for an Indoor Circus in the community gym.

On May 5, 6, 7 Huntington was host to the State Band Contest. This occasion brought 3,000 students to Huntington to participate in the solo, ensemble, band, and orchestra competitions. One of the outstanding features of the contest was the colorful maneuvering at Kriegbaum Field.

Senior Play . . . .

"Galahad Jones," by Boyce Loving, a comedy of youth in three acts, was presented by the Class of 1938 in the Huntington High School Auditorium, November 18 and 19, 1937.

The characters were: Henry Jones, a middle-aged real estate man, Mark Doudna; Amy Jones, his wife, Marjorie Burris; Alice Jones, their elder daughter, Evelyn Fahl; Joy Jones, a younger daughter, Mary Lou Dennle; Tommy Jones, their only son, Robert of-town "number," Mary Louise Petrucelle Mr. Andrews, a G-man, Worth Ware

Tommy Jones, alias Galahad Jones, in the stellar role as a modern knight of the Round Table, fills the production with gay comedy. The plot winds smoothly around his attempts to prove that the days of Medieval knights were the only times of true living.

The directors of the play were Miss Lulu Rupert, Bruce Gerdes, and Mrs. Beatrice Patterson. Stage settings were made by J E Michael. Costumes were under the direction of Miss Alice Kline. The Lady Miriam

Bob Heck as Olaf the Swedish hi-jacker, threatened by a note from Tommy who is trying to right the wrongs of the world, appears to return the threat in person.

When Tommy, alias Galahad Jones—Bob Allman to you—has tried the patience of Father Jones (Mark Doudna) to the limit, Mother Jones (Marjorie Burris) intercedes.

George, a rising young lawyer (Max Forster) and Alice, the oldest Jones offspring (Evelyn Fahl) discuss the problem at hand—namely, Tommy's latest escapade.

Allman; Lena, their Swedish maid, Mildred Lottman; Lou, a girl friend of Joy's, Virginia Plummer; Bess, another girl friend, Irma Ade; Bob, a neighbor boy, Rex Heaston; Gus, Bob's pal, Eugene Shoemaker; George Merton, a young lawyer engaged to Alice, Max Forster; Olaf Jensen, the villain (a truck driver), Robert Heck; Miriam, an out-costume was designed by Bette Myers.

The following committees were concerned with the Senior Play:

Advertisement: William Dill, chairman; Janis Frantz, Betty Myers, Bronson Harris, Evelyn Schacht, Fred Mowrer.

Program: Robert Corell, chairman; Harold Reeves, Jannette Lantis.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

Standing: Robert Heck, Marjorie Burris, Mark Doudna.

Seated: Eugene Shoemaker, Evelyn Fahl, Max Forster, Rex Houston, Mildred Lottman, Mary Lou Dennie, Irma Ade, Mary Louise Petrucelle, Robert Altman.

Tommy Jones impersonates the famous Sir Galahad with Lena, the Swedish maid, (Mildred Lottman) as his lady fair. That the throne is a chair placed precariously on the table, and her raiment is more or less questionable does not dampen her lord's homage.

No teen age play is complete without "the gang." Meet Gus and Lou (Rex Houston) and Virginia Plummer; Joy Jones, Mary Lou Dennie, and Bea and Bob (Irma Ade and Eugene Shoemaker).

I've never felt the kiss of love, nor maiden's hand in mine." Poor Lena has been supplanted. When Miriam—you know her as Mary Louise Petrucelle—impersonates Queen Guinevere, even Sir Galahad loses his heart.

Finance: Betty Windemuth, chairman, Georgianna Peters, Joe Souers.

The ushers for the Senior Play were Lons Frantz, Imo Gene Snyder, Mary Louise Winkler, Mary Jane Vickery, Vivian Brown, Helen Teagarden, Evelyn Schacht, Anna Correll, Jannette Lantis, Mary Kay Wineke, Iva Scholfield, Nellie Smith.

Robert Corell and Ralph Eltzroth were stage hands.

The Senior Play cast motored to Fort Wayne, December 16, to celebrate the success of the production, "Galahad Jones." Following a dinner and presentation of gifts to Miss Rupert and Mrs. Patterson, the party attended a theater showing "Dead End."

NOMINEES

Vivian Brown, Imo Gene Snyder, Mary Lou Dennie; Mary Louise Petrucelle, Queen, Jannette Lantis, Alma Correll Evelyn Schacht.

Red And Black Varieties . . . .

Departing from the customary pattern of stage revues as presented for the last eight years, the Red and Black Varieties, sponsored by the Journalism Department, set a standard in variety entertainment that was decidedly of a high school "flavor" and was distinctly enjoyable, according to the many who saw the two performances on March 24 and 25.

With less attempt to copy professional models, the preparations were less costly, so that more money was cleared than on any previous stage attraction. The ticket selling was the result of the efforts of seven nominees, girls of the Senior Class, who vied for the honor of Red and Black Varieties Queen. Though the work of all was worthy, Mary Louise Petrucelle captured the title. Other nominees were Alma Correll, Mary Lou Dennie, Vivian Brown, Jannette Lantis Evelyn Schacht, Imo Gene Snyder.

The large stage orchestra furnished accompaniment for many of the specialty acts, besides presenting special selections. A wide variety of acts presented an entertainment ranging from slap-stick farce to serious endeavor.

Acting as master-of-ceremonies, as in the other eight musical shows of the past, Mr. Day, better known as "Pop," presented the numbers to the audience, and was responsible to see that back-stage arrangements went smoothly, without the crowd suspecting that a change in order had been made, due to a broken skate strap, or a little longer time required for changing costumes.

Others who helped with the Varieties, and who failed to get pictures taken of their work, were Robert Heck, who manipulated the dials on the sound amplifier.. Robert Cussen, who worked in the booth with the spotlight; and J. E. Michael, who was responsible for arranging the stage setting.

Ushers who assisted during the performances were: Janis Frantz, Ruth Raver, Helen Heitz, Marjorie Pauling, Margaret Toopes, Constance Bonebrake, Waneta Rupert, Wilma Kline, Mary Jane Wiles, Berniece Van Dine, Eleanor Bates, Charlotte Barton, Joan O'dier.

As a bit of contribution to the auditorium equipment, the Varieties added a two-way telephone communication system between the stage switchboard and the spotlight booth at the rear of the balcony. The equipment proved its convenience, not only during the stage show, but later during the operation of picture shows and other entertainments.

As a "Thank you" to the cast, all the members were guests of the department at an Easter Dance, sponsored by the Sunshine Society in the high school gymnasium, on Friday, April 22. Music was furnished by a Symphonlola, so even members of the orchestra who were present had the rare privilege of dancing.

Approximately thirty members attended, in February, the Annual Hoosier Art Salon at Marshall-Fields Museum, Chicago. In March the club held a private Roller Skating Party at a local skating rink. Therefore, in the Fall of 1937 Miss Kline, with the assistance of Miss Helen Hohe, organized the Srekam O' Semoh Club (Homemaker's Club). Only Junior and Senior girls are eligible for membership in the club.

The club's colors are pink and silver. The motto is "To fireside happiness, to hours of ease."

Booster Club . . . .

The Booster Club organized in 1936, was originated to boost the swimming team and all other school sports. The club carried on the purpose during the current year.

Several money-making schemes were devised. The first was the selling of red and black caps. For the second scheme, ads were collected and printed in the form of megaphones which were given to all H. H. S. students.

The club held four social events during the year, the first being in the form of a cabaret-styled dance, held in the H. H. S. gym. The second event was given in the clubrooms of the "Y", a Pot-luck Splash Party. The third was a nautically decorated dance in the high school gym. The last event was a steak roast held on a nearby farm.

During the year the Booster Club sponsored at six different times special bargain busses to the out-of-town sport contests.

The club was active and successful in backing the pep movement in the school. The club sponsored movies and athletic contests, and with the funds received from these events purchased and presented to the high school a very beautiful and useful trophy case.

The leaders and advisers of the "H" Club for the year 1937-38 were: Fred Mowrer, President; Bronson Harris, Vice President, Ed Coble, Secretary; William Davidson, Treasurer; Garland Crowe and Burton Stephan, Advisers.

Football . . . .

Outplaying their opponents in six of the eight season games but falling short in the scoring department in five of the contests, the 1937 Viking football ship sailed out on a calm sea to win their first three contests and then hit bad weather for the remainder of the trip and lost the last five games.

With only six lettermen returning from last year's squad, Coach Jim Crowe issued a call for candidates last spring and held a six week session of "spring practice." About 45 underclassmen reported and fifteen of these were graduated to the regular squad last fall to compose most of the team.

For ten days during the month of August shortly after the Fall practice session had begun, 25 of the fellows were taken to Camp Crosley on Little Tippecanoe Lake for an intensive training school to build up the green team. There were four other high schools present and the team took part in group demonstrations.

Among the leaders of the training camp were Pete Vaughn, of Wabash college, Coach Governneal, of DePauw university, Herz Clark and other college coaches.

The Norse started off the season with a win over Columbia City. In the second game the Vikings won their only Central Indiana Conference game over Plymouth. Between the halves the local new $20,000 stadium was dedicated.

Following a scoring spree over Portland, the Norsemen lost to the Wabash Apaches in the homecoming game. On the following Friday night the Vikings played their first out-of-town game at Peru and although it was their worst defeat of the year it was also their best performance of the season.

The Crowmen lost their final conference game to the Warsaw Tigers in their poorest showing of the season, followed by another defeat at the hands of Garrett. In the closing contest the Norse were edged out at Bluffton by a fluke touchdown and last quarter safety.

The results of the season were Huntington ended in a tie with Warsaw for fifth place in the CIC standings with one game won and three games lost.

Seely was the ninth highest scorer in the conference while Hooton was named as an all-conference tackle. Ellis, Calvin Mowrer, Davidson, and Seely were also named as honorable mention in the conference.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

 Fourth Row: Eugene Smith, Louis Ellis, Jack Marlett, Jack Doudna, Gaylord Beerbower, Henry Christ, Robert Belding, Eugene Weinley, Robert Sturgeon, Richard Marker.

HEAD COACH GARLAND JIM CROWE

Heading the coaching staff of this year's grid mentors was Garland "Jim" Crowe in his second year as head of the department of athletics in Huntington high school.

"Jim" is a graduate of the University of Indiana at which he won major letters in football and baseball, and minor letters in basketball. He was also one of the four freshmen of the class of '26 to win three numerals in his freshman year.

ASSISTANT COACH GLEN HUMMER

"Molly," or "Butch," as he is called by his understudies, returned to the faculty this year after a year's absence in which he attended Columbia University. He assisted Coach Crowe with the coaching duties and coached the ends individually. He has also attended the universities of Illinois and Washington. While at Illinois he played on the varsity football, basketball, swimming, and track teams. Hummer is a graduate of H. H. S. and one of the Alma Mater's greatest ends.

ASSISTANT COACH DALE WARE

Arriving in the middle of the first semester

as a member of the faculty, Dale Ware was added to the football coaching staff and helped to assist Coach Crowe for the remainder of the season.

Dale attended Huntington college, Manchester college, and Butler university; he won major letters in basketball, tennis, baseball, and track while in attendance at these schools.

He was, until the time when he came to Huntington high, the coach of the Blippus high school basketball and baseball teams which won much prominence by their fine showings in the county standings.

HONORARY CAPTAIN FRID MOWRER

"Fritz" as he was called by his teammates served as captain of the Vikings in five of the eight contests and proved himself to be a worthy leader. An injury in the Wabash game kept him from starting in three of the remaining games, but in the other five games he proved himself to be worth the honor bestowed upon him at the end of the season when his teammates elected him as honorary captain of the 1937 team. Fritz was named by the conference sports scribes as an honorable mention for right end in the C. I. C. Fritz will graduate this year and the loss of him next year will be deeply felt.

SWEATER MAN WILLIS SEELY

"Doc" was one of the two fellows on the 1937 squad who has won three major letters in football during his high school career. To prove that he was not resting on his laurels during his last season, he was elected the most valuable player by his fellow gridgers. In the four years that Doc played football he mastered every position in the backfield and was a thorough blocker, a hard hitting tackler, and a battering plunger. His passing was what the opposing teams feared most in the last season. Seely averaged more yards per completed pass this season than did Sammy Baugh, All-American halfback. Willis is also a Senior.

ON THE BENCH

Substitutes on the bench watch the game in progress under the flood lights.

WILLIAM DAVIDSON, CENTER

"Bus" was one of the sparkplugs of this year's team that was left over from last year. "Little Dave" is considered as one of the best centers in the conference, and proved it by not making a bad pass from center during the entire season. He will be back again next year to pilot the Vikings through their grid battles.

CARL HOOTON, END AND TACKLE

Hooton was the only member of this year's squad to make the all-conference team. "Honest Mike" was a hard hitting lineman and few gains went through his side of the line when the Viks were on defense. His three years of varsity experience will be lost by graduation.

BRONSON HARRIS, HALFBACK

"Bronco" lived up to his name by prancing off five and a half yards every time he carried the ball. His punts got the Norse out of many tight spots and his off-tackle runs gained many first downs for the Black and Crimson. He is another who has graced Kriegbaum field for the last time.

STANTON HAMMEL, QUARTERBACK

Stan was the "forgotten man" in this year's backfield. However it was his brilliant blocking that was instrumental in many long gains. The '37 season was "Hammy's" first and last in the Viking football wars.

WILLIAM ELLERMAN, GUARD

Bill, although short in stature and light in weight, was one of the hardest hitting lineman on the team this year. His dependability was proven when he was chosen to start every game. He will be back next year to help mold the Huntington forward wall.

J. MELVIN CANVIN, END

"Mel" was called into the starting lineup when Captain Mowrer received his injury and proved himself so worthy of the position that he remained on the varsity for the remainder of the season, and was given an honorable mention in the C. I. C. Many a forward pass play can be expected to be thrown to him next year. He is a Junior.

LOUIS ELLIS, HALFBACK

Louie's track training was one of his greatest assets as his 61 yard run against Warsaw proved. He was also another Junior to receive C. I. C. recognition. Louie averaged almost seven yards per play for the best backfield average of the year.

VIRGIL SCHFRER, TACKLE

Virg was the largest man on the squad last season and will be back again next year to lend his services to the Red and Black. His breaking into the opposition's backfield smear a play before it had started was a large cause for the opponents loss of 200 yards during the season.

Richard Marker—end
Virgil Shearer—tackle
Edward Coble—lineman
Fred Mowrer—end

Willis Seeley—fullback
Carl Hooton—tackle
Stanton Hammel—quarterback
Bronson Harris—halfback

RICHARD MARKER, END

Dick was another who played his first and last season for H. H. S. this year. Although a reserve he showed his true merit in the Peru game. An injury kept him out of action in the last games.

ROBERT MAYNE, HALFBACK

Bob was one of the outstanding underclassmen who was on the varsity this year. Mayne is only a sophomore and will be counted upon to play for the Vikings next year.

DONALD GALBRAITH, QUARTERBACK

Don is another sophomore who saw action in several games. His ability at calling signals will be an asset to Crowe in the next two years. His efficiency as field marshall of the Rinkydinks can well be employed in the Viking backfield next year.

DONALD CLARK, LINEMAN

Don was a versatile lineman who captained the Rinkydinks in their grid games. He also saw action in almost every varsity game. "Zeke" can be counted upon to fill his brother's shoes next year.

GAYLORD BEERBOWER, END

Gay is a sophomore who played in quite a few of the Viking football battles and who has two years left in which to take his brother's place as a conference lineman.

WARREN EVISTON, TACKLE

Warren played his second year on the varsity this year and started in every game. His blocking was a thing that could be depended upon by the backs and many gains which went through the hole he opened. Warren is only a Junior and will be back next year.

EDWARD COBLE, LINEMAN

Ed was one of the most versatile players on the 1937 squad. During the season Ed played every position on the line, and could always be depended upon to fill in any place in the forward wall in case of an injury. Ed will be lost by graduation.

EUGENE SMITH, GUARD

"Smitty" was another very versatile player of the last season squad. During the season Gene played fullback, end, and halfback. His plunges and ability to snag passes were two reasons why the Viks outplayed most of their opponents.

ROBERT BELDING, TACKLE

Bob was one of the toughest men on the line and played approximately 60 minutes in every game. He is one reason why Coach Crowe won't have to worry much about the line next year as he is a junior.

JUNIOR LETTER MEN

William Davidson, William Ellerman, Melvin Canvin, Eugene Smith, Louis Ellis, Warren Eviston, and Robert Belding.

FIRST TEAM LINEUP

Back Row: Stanton Hammel, Eugene Smith, Willis Seeley, and Bronson Harris.

Basketball . . . .

fight on Vikings. . . for the glory of Huntington high

Just like the above words which are part of our victory song Jim Crowe's fighting band of Norsemen brought glory to Huntington High School by the splendid performance of their 1937-38 basketball season.

Coming back from a poor start the Vikings won twelve out of the twenty regular season games, won the rotating Central Indiana Conference horseshoe, and turned in the second best season that any Lima City squad has done for the last fifteen years.

In tourney play the Viks finally succeeded in bringing back the county courthouse by virtue of their sectional tourney championship (the first one since we've been in school), and were only eliminated from further tourney competition in the regional at Fort Wayne by the potential state champs South Side At North Manchester. In the annual January Big Four tournament the Red and Black Crowmen lost the finale to the Warsaw Tigers in a heartbreaking overtime.

The fellows who worked towards this glory for H. H. S. and are now basking in its after-glow were six graduating classmates. Bill Marker, "Chuck" West, Jack Hosler, Dick Marker, Johnny Adams, and "Mike" Hooton and two juniors, Dale Stroud and "Bus" Davidson. These eight were the varsity squad up until mid-season when Bill Ellerman, a junior, and two sophomores, Don Galbraith and Gerald Beerbower, joined the Viking fold.

Parker led the conference in individual scoring and was named on the all-conference and all-sectional teams. At the end of the season his team mates voted him the most valuable member of the squad and he was awarded the honor sweater.

The Scyldings, under the tutelage of Dale Ware, closed with a very successful season upon the hardwood with eleven wins out of twenty starts for a percentage of .550. Despite the fact that quite often during the season good combinations were broken up due to injuries and the advancement of others to the varsity squad, the Junior Norse won ten and lost eight regular season games, six of nine games with C. I. C. member teams, and participated in the Wabash Big Four tourney, coming off second of four.

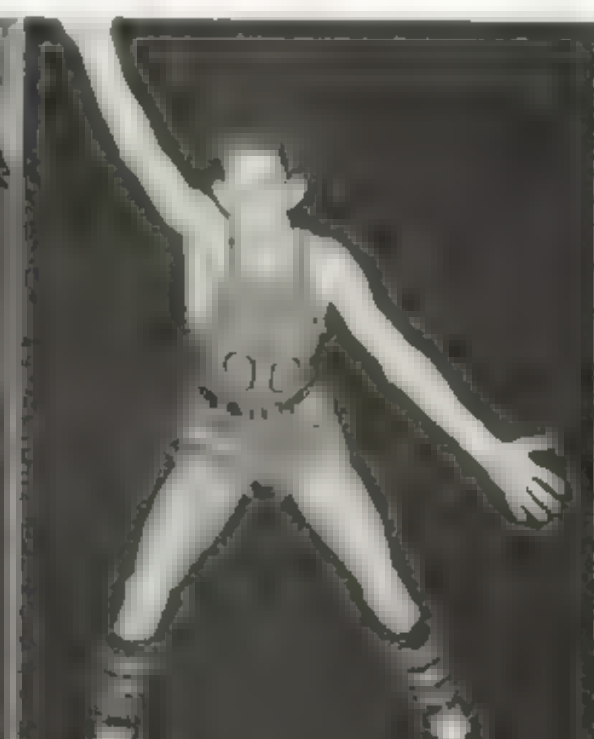

Dill and Beerbower led the scoring of the Skids, which was 405 points to their opponents' 393. An interesting fact in the second team games throughout the year was the low scores, only in two of the games did either the Scyldings or their opponents score more than thirty points.

The fellows who received the letter award were: Louis Ellis, Dick Dill, Earl Solloway, Floyd Cox, Leon Dunkin, Jack Marlett, Howard White, Bill McLaughlin, and Don Kissinger.

Turning in the best record of any athletic team in Huntington high school this year, Coach Lowell "Sherm" Buzzard's small but mighty crew of anything but green Freshmen give a rosy outlook for future basketball seasons.

The Frosh triumphed in all but two of the 24 season games and added two more victims to their list when they won the Wabash invitational tournament. Their most striking victories were over Horace Mann and Huntington Catholic which were won by respective scores of 49 to 3 and 56 to 6.

The team was comprised largely from the following boys who received the Freshman letter award: Harold Jamison, Bill Geshorn, Howard McIlrath, Meredith Hammel, George Galbraith, Jack Stanley, Jack Hart, Howard Kaylor, Don Johnston, Norman Rupert, Duane Jones, Victor Weinly, and Bill Humbert.

The Huntington High School basketball teams competed in five tournaments during the 1937-38 season. The Vikings were participants in three. The Big Four at North Manchester on January 1 was won by Warsaw over H. H. S., who had in turn won over Wabash in the first round. Dale Stroud was named on the all-tourney team and Johnny Adams and Dick Marker received honorable mention. On March 3, 4, and 5, the Vikings entertained the largest sectional crowd that Huntington county has ever had by winning over Union Center, Roanoke, and Banquo at the Community gym. Davidson Parker, Stroud, and Hosler made the all-tourney selection while Marker again made the honorable mention. Huntington's receipts for the tourney were $652.14. On March 12, South Side of Fort Wayne ousted the Norse from the regional by a score of 38-19. Of the ten teams that faced South Side on their road to the championship, only four teams put up a stiffer fight than the Red and Black.

The Scyldings and Freshmen participated in a Big Four tournament at Wabash on January 15 with the Skids winning their first game from the host team and losing the finals to Kokomo. The Frosh met the freshman squads of both schools and won the championship from them in reverse order, first Kokomo and then Wabash in the final.

The three boys' clubs of the high school, the "H" club, and the two Hi-Y clubs, each sponsored a basketball team during the winter months. Games were played between the clubs themselves, the different grade schools, the high school Frosh, and independent or "free" teams in the city of Huntington. The senior Hi-Y team played one game with an out-of-the-city team, the Wabash Hi-Y.

In the annual "H" club-Faculty fracas, the more learned gentlemen of the school led by Dale Ware, emerged victorious by the score of 41-31.

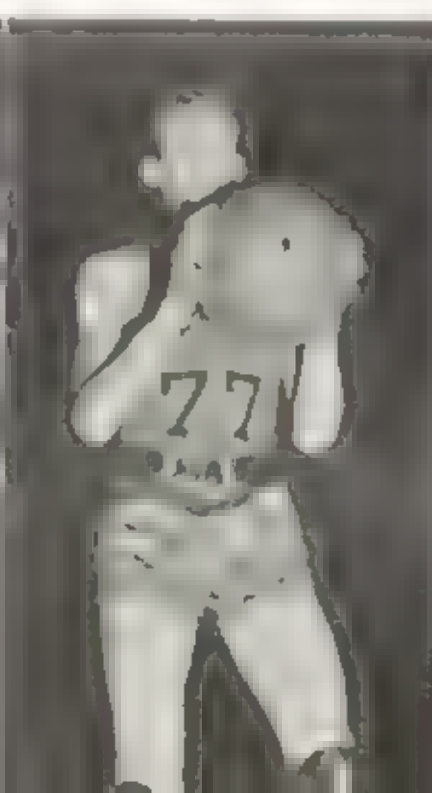

Also in the annual Underclassmen-Senior contest, played at the end of the season, the future standard bearers, coached by Jimmy Russo, won out over "Stretch" Stalder's dignitaries by a score of 47-33.

The outstanding social function of the year is the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet. In the past year the club was fortunate in having Mrs. Max Markley, of Bluffton, give a book review on "Woman Surgeon," which gave the life and work of Rosalie Morton.

In early Fall of '37 the club met for a Sack Supper followed by a visit to a local Rifle House at which the owner presented the group with a new gun. Later in the year a Hobo Hiking-Party was enjoyed with all members dressed as typical hobos. In early spring rough and formal initiations were held for five new members.
